Practical Action

ABOUT US

We are an international development organisation putting ingenious ideas to work so people in poverty can change their world.

We help people find solutions to some of the world's toughest problems. Challenges made worse by catastrophic climate change and persistent gender inequality. We work with communities to develop ingenious, lasting and locally owned solutions for agriculture, water and waste management, climate resilience and clean energy. And we share what works with others, so answers that start small can grow big.

We're a global change-making group, working with communities who are vulnerable to poverty and climate change to support them to change their world. Together we develop innovative, community powered and locally owned solutions that achieve transformative change in lives and livelihoods. And we work with a range of partners, including governments, business and international organisations to ensure improvements are sustained and scaled and to change the systems that keep people poor and vulnerable.

We were founded in 1969 by radical economist EF Schumacher who challenged the development thinking of the time. He believed in solutions suited to context, equipping people with the skills and knowledge to change their situation, economic systems that work for all and living within the planets means. This ethos continues to fuel all our work. Schumacher was the author of 'Small is Beautiful: A study of economics as if people mattered'. In our work we start 'small', ensuring we understand what is already working but we aim big focussing on what will deliver the systems change required.

We have over 50 years of experience working across Africa, Asia and Latin America. Our group consists of a UK registered charity with experienced country teams, an expert consulting service and an independent development publishing company. We combine these specialisms to multiply our impact and help shape a world that works better for everyone.

OUR AIMS

We work across four thematic areas. Much of our most impactful work combines our expertise across issues to solve complex and interconnected problems such as supporting smallholder farmers with renewable energy to increase yields and open up bigger opportunities for the wider economy.

Harnessing energy that transforms for the one billion people without electricity, and the three billion people without clean cooking solutions. We're bringing together rural communities, displaced people, energy providers and decision makers to put clean energy to work. By 2025, our work with partners will have led to affordable, low-carbon energy access and cleaner cooking for two million people in 'last mile' communities and 18 million people through wider systems change.

Building resilience that protects for vulnerable people whose lives and livelihoods are threatened by climate-related and natural hazards. We're working with people threatened by natural and climate related hazards, reducing vulnerability and minimizing the impact on their lives and livelihoods.

By 2025, our work with partners will have enhanced risk knowledge systems so that four million people living in hazard-prone, climate-vulnerable communities are better protected.

Making cities fit for people for the millions of people living in urban slums and settlements without proper sanitation, clean water and waste services. Our work with communities is making cities in poorer countries cleaner, healthier, fairer places for people to live and work, with clean water for drinking and sewage safely contained, collected and processed. By 2025, our work with partners will have led to improved water, sanitation and waste management services for one million people living in slum communities and a further 2.4 million people through wider systems change.

Cultivating farming that works for smallholder farmers struggling to make a sufficient income and adapt to the negative effects of climate change. We're teaming up with smallholder farmers, many of whom are women, so they can adapt to climate change and achieve a good standard of living. By 2025, our work with partners will have improved food security and incomes for two million people in rural communities and a further one million people through wider systems change.

About the Role

As a HR Business Partner- Policy and Projects, you will work across a number of areas to facilitate the people agenda in support of the achievement of our strategic business plan. The role will focus on helping to build a strong HR infrastructure through the development of people management practices, and will lead on policy development and designing new ways of working, which encourage purposeful integration and collaboration across our global organisation.

A key focus of the role will be contributing to the delivery of a broad range of strategic projects, leading and implementing key activities arising out of these projects.

The role will also have ownership and management of operational activities in delivering an excellent HR service to our UK based teams, in support of our values and culture, ensuring alignment to our broader organisational strategy, whilst ensuring best practice and legal compliance.

It will also provide strategic and operational expertise and leadership in partnering, coaching and supporting UK teams in building capabilities which support and facilitate a high-performance culture in achievement of our global change ambitions. In addition to lending support to our emerging Global HR teams to enable good people management, empowering others to lead, and deliver on our strategic objectives relating to People and Culture.

Key Working Relationships

This will be an influential and rewarding role covering both the UK and international offices, where required, and as such, it will have a number of key relationships including: Global People and Culture/Human Resources Teams, UK based People specialists i.e. Learning and Development Manager, Advisor, UK Divisions/functions/teams, Trade Union; in addition to external relationships with outsourced providers e.g. for legal advice, payroll, employee assistance programme, pension etc.

KEY ACCOUNTABILITIES

HR Management

- Provide operational expertise and management across the full-employee lifecycle, to both the UK office and the wider Global People and Culture Teams, in line with the organisation's strategy, global principles, HR best practice and local context.
- Partner, coach and support people managers within the UK office on a wide range of day-to-day people matters, developing structures and strategies to support them, and anticipating and planning for the people implications of objectives and plans.
- Develop and maintain strong collaborative relationships with people managers by understanding key business objectives in order to define, create and deliver effective HR solutions.
- Oversee the work of the People and Culture Coordinator providing coaching and support to aid their professional development.
- Proactively build networks within and outside of the sector, in maintaining knowledge and keeping up-to date with developments, utilising insights and ideas to ensure that HR best practice is adopted.
- Identify, develop and implement key HR initiatives aligned to our global culture, and which enable the achievement of our strategic ambitions, and embed these into our operating model.

Recruitment

- Manage the end-end recruitment process, advising on international recruitment and ensuring delivery of a positive candidate experience, with a focus on continuous improvement and strengthening Practical Action's employer branding position.
- Partner with hiring managers on advertising strategies and content, establishing and negotiating with preferred agency suppliers, advising on the selection process and statistical monitoring, and maintaining an awareness of external employment/sector market trends.

Policy Development

- Develop, implement and revise UK policies in line with global policy, UK employment law and best practice. Ensuring that diversity and inclusion is embedded in key policies and frameworks in fulfilment of Practical Action's Diversity and Inclusion strategy.

- Provide robust and consistent advice on the application and interpretation of employment policies, across the UK office, and participate in the development and delivery of training initiatives to increase capabilities in people management practices.

Business and Process Improvement

- Lead on the development and delivery of internal work systems and processes, proposing innovative ways to improve existing ones, and identify and implement opportunities to improve our people experience.
- Partner with the Global People and Culture Teams in driving process consistency and efficiency globally.

Performance Management

- Enable people managers to have informed and effective performance management conversations, supported by transparent performance data, and support with facilitating appropriate interventions.
- Partnering with the Learning and Development Manager/Advisor in informing the development of programmes to support capability building in achievement of strategic objectives and enable the development of a high-performance culture.
- Maintain and oversee the performance management cycle and the refreshed People Management Process (PMP), providing coaching, orienting and deploying effective employee engagement strategies.

Compensation and Benefits

- Oversee the accurate and timely processing of the monthly payroll, pension and benefits administration, liaising with the Finance Team and outsourced payroll providers as appropriate.
- Support, and assist with the annual remuneration review processes, where required.
- Update and maintain salary, grading and job evaluation structures and processes that will support attraction and retention.

Data and Management Reporting

- Responsible for the preparation and submissions of Management HR reports, as required, collating and analyse people metrics in order to increase business awareness of issues and trends relating to people management.
- Using knowledge and data to identifying areas for improvement, and translate key data into solutions focused action plans.

- Act as the HR data lead, in providing advice on the use and management of people data and information in accordance with GDPR requirements.

HR Transactions

- Work in conjunction with the Global People and Culture HR Assistant to ensure the smooth, accurate delivery of HR lifecycle transactions including on boarding, movers, leavers, flexible working requests etc.

Other

- Contribute to the delivery of HR projects and initiatives as relevant to the current and future needs of the organisation, providing responsive support to ensure successful business planning.
- Champion, facilitate and support the process of change with regards to organisational transformation programmes underpinned by robust people focused approaches.
- To undertake any other duties commensurate with the level and grade as may be reasonably required in fulfilment of the role.
